

Xiaohui Ding

MBG Quality and Global Supply Chain Leader

Xiaohui Ding leads the Mobile Business Group (Motorola) Quality team worldwide. In this role, Xiaohui oversees implementation of end-to-end quality management and control across the entire Mobile organization - from product to supply chain - to achieve best-in-class quality and customer satisfaction.

Prior to his current role, Xiaohui served as Motorola's global procurement engineering leader. Since starting his career at Lenovo in 1999, Xiaohui has held several leadership roles, including leading the Lenovo Laptop Quality team, and managing Lenovo Supply Chain, where he was responsible for worldwide manufacturing quality, procurement engineering and NPI.

Xiaohui received his Bachelor of Mechanical Manufacturing and Engineering from HIT (Harbin Institute of Technology). He is based in Beijing.
