

Ken Russell

CFO, Smartphone Segment

Ken oversees global financial activities for Motorola Mobility including support for Financial Planning, Product Development, Product Cost and Business Controls. Over his 28-year career with Motorola, Ken has held various management roles in Finance across many areas of the business including Financial Planning and Analysis, Financial Operations, Sales and Marketing, Supply Chain, Service and Accounting. Prior to this role, Ken led Motorola's Global Financial Planning team, helping drive the business to continuous year on year profit growth. Ken holds a bachelor's degree in finance from Illinois State University and an Executive MBA from Northern Illinois University. Ken is based in Chicago.